

Miguel, paciente de St. Jude, cancer de ojo

Los descubrimientos desarrollados en St. Jude ayudan a niños de todo el mundo, como Miguel.

After Miguel was diagnosed with retinoblastoma, a type of eye cancer, in both eyes, his mom Liliana obtained a referral to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital™ "I felt like a weight was lifted from my shoulders," she said. Treatments invented at St. Jude have helped push the overall childhood cancer survival rate from 20% to more than 80%. We won't stop until no child dies from cancer.
